

Ian Webb Bio:

Throughout my working life I have had a variety of administrative and financial roles mostly at a managerial level responsible for up to 8 staff; setting and reporting against budgets; financial and cash flow accounting; credit control, vat and audit preparation. For two years I was a self-employed Newsagent and owned a Confectionery, Tobacconist and Newsagent Shop.

I have been involved in voluntary work throughout my life, including, Member and Treasurer on a number of Parent Teacher Associations; Governor on a Special School Governing Body (10 years as the Chair) ; a school Governor representative on a number of Education Committees including the Swindon Education Partnership Board; member of the Highworth Community Partnership Group for 2 years (similar to a CAP); member of WfCAP for 1 year and as a volunteer, in their facilities department and fundraised for the Swindon Prospect Hospice.

My interests are (for both my wife Joan and I) our children and grandchildren ; holidaying and foreign travel; and for me gardening and DIY and voluntary work since the age of 14 that's 53 years and counting !

Nick Westbrook BA(Com) FCMI Bio:

Recently retired, Nick's career focused on community engagement / public involvement in senior management and Chief Officer / CEO roles.

Over the past 15 years, Nick was Chief Officer of the Bath and District CHC; and when it was abolished by government reforms he led a multi-agency voluntary sector partnership to create a support organisation for successor statutory PPIF / LINK groups of volunteers giving a voice to patients and public on health matters. In this capacity, he provided advice and training at national / local level working in partnership with NCVO, NAVCA and National Voices; occasionally lecturing on University of Birmingham's INLOGOV courses / seminars.

Nick retired from elected office to undertake these roles – but was previously a member of the West Wiltshire, Wiltshire County and Melksham Town Councils for many years, chairing several Committees. He was also Chair of the Wiltshire and Swindon Combined Fire Authority.

Nick has extensive knowledge of community engagement, development and public involvement; media communications and public relations; and strategic planning and campaign / event management.

Currently a member of the Melksham Neighbourhood Plan Steering Group, Nick leads on health and wellbeing, and contributes to the community engagement team.
